HOW CAN WE CURB RUSSIA?
PERHAPS SHE'S TOO SMART
"AE" COMES TO TALK
DON'T CRY

THE WORLD IS INDIGNANT.
Uncle Sam and Canada especially so, because Russia sells wheat to Europe 10 cents below the market price.

It is said Russia can undersell
cause Russia uses "slave labor," taking wheat from the farmers on any basis that suits the government.

THAT MAY BE, but even so, if Russia cuts Europe's price 10 cents, and sells for 70 cents a bushel, that 10 cents a bushel more than the Kansas farmer gets on his farm,
and Kansas farming is not slave
labor.

Congressman Fort, of New Jersey, comes from Europe,
with a budget of information
and sorrow.

All Europe worries about Russian dumping of wheat, and other things, as we worry, and Europe, like ourselves, doesn't see any way of fighting the Russian menace.

You can say to Russians:
"you shall not sell or buy in our wheat market." But you can't keep Russia from cutting prices in Europe, which means that our farmers' surplus cannot sell abroad.

POSSIBLY WE underestimate
Russia, and her ability. The great Aeneas, quoted by Dr. Appleton in his "basis of all life" said: "Every scientific truth passes through three stages. First: men say it is not true. Then they declare it is hostile to religion. Finally, they say that everyone has always known it."

FIRST, OUR HIGH financial minds said that Russia's government couldn't possibly last. Then,
they said, which was quite true,
that Russia was hostile to religion.
By and by they may be saying
"everyone always knew that Russia was certain to succeed, and the world did not know."

GEORGE RUSSELL, known as "A. E.", arrived in America yesterday, to lecture throughout the United States on agricultural life, possibilities of cooperation, and, above all, the art of making that life ideal,
one of true happiness, as opposed to a life of sordid, endless
labor.

MR. RUSSELL, AN INTENSELY
patriotic Irishman, is a brilliant poet, and an artist of ability.
He comes, as he says, "to talk with us, not to teach us," and is much interested in the 80,000 abandoned farms in America, with their unused 19,000,000 acres, saying that the vitality of a nation "dies when its farms are brought to the point of exhaustion."

Good citizens, including Jane Addams, President Angell, of Yale, President Butler, of Columbia, Owen D. Young and Elihu Root, are interested in Mr. Russell's tour of the United States, arranged and underwritten by Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman.

JOSEPH TOPLITZKY, of Los Angeles, and the whole Pacific coast, is in New York and tells eastern-ers that they "cry too much and plan too little."

Things on the coast are improving. And across the Pacific, in Shanghai, there is a genuine real

ROBBERS LOOT OFFICE SAFE IN SALEM

Business Friction Ends In Fatal Shooting Of Officials

President Of Railroad Killed By Man Who Then Ends His Own Life; Tragedy Occurs In Locked Room Of Offices

(By Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Sept. 24.—The shooting to death of the president of the Western Maryland Railways by a vice president of the road who then took his own life was ascribed today to friction over matters of policy in connection with the road.
A coroner's verdict declared Dudley G. Gray, vice president in charge of traffic, shot and killed Maxwell C. Byers, the president, and fatally wounded himself. The two men were found in the president's office a pistol lying in Gray's side.

Gray had been with the road 17 years. He was 61 years old, Byers, who was 52-years old, became president in 1920. Until 1926, when Byers also became chairman of the board, Gray made his reports directly to the board of directors, but after that the reports were handled by Byers.

Further facts of the drama of the double tragedy came to light today with information that Byers made a desperate effort to escape, running about his office as Gray fired shot
after shot after him.

But the door was locked and he finally fell, his body punctured by eight bullets, one of which had pierced his heart. Two bullets were

Valley-Salem Work May Be Finished Before Cold Weather

LISBON, Sept. 24.—Concrete now is being poured on the Valley-Salem road, and this is the last highway that is to be improved in Colum-biana county during the current year.

Weather permitting, it is considered likely by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk that the improvement will be finished, so far as concrete work is concerned, within seven weeks.

George B. Patterson of Wellsville, who has been awarded the contract for placing a traffic bound top on the Elkton-Signal road has started on that project. With these two contracts finished, road work in this county for the current year will have ended, so far as county work is concerned.

W. C. Neff, county superintendent for the state highway department, will continue road repair work as long as weather permits. The state has proposed the improvement of several highways in this county next year, but so far no definite program has been announced.

Constable Fined On Bond Using Charge
LISBON, Sept. 24.—Harvey Mc-Laughlin, who with Charles Brownfield, was indicted by a Columbiana county grand jury for personal use of a bond deposited with him by a motorist for appearance on a traffic violation, pleaded guilty in common pleas court this morning and was fined $100 and costs.

This fine was later cut to $50 and arrangements were made to pay it.
Both men are constables in Madis-son township, Columbiana county.
Brownfield has not yet appeared in court.

Brown To Name New Election Board In Mahoning County

Parties Choose Candidates For Election Posts

Conditions Worst Called To Attention Of State, Officials Say

DEPUTY CLERK IS BACK INTO OFFICE

Grand Jury Continues In Investigation Into Scandals

(By Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 24.—A new board of elections for Mahoning county made up of nominees submitted by Democratic and Republican executive committees, was to be appointed today by Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown, while the grand jury continued an investigation which according to authoritative sources has widened to include county officials.

At meetings of the party committees which lasted far into last night,
A. W. Craver and John J. Farrell were recommended for the election board by the Democrats, and George S. Bishop and John Marsh were chosen by the Republicans.

These men are to replace W. C.
Sixcox and S. A. Arnold, who resigned late yesterday, and James Scanlon and Carl W. Reilly, dismissed by Secretary Brown after they had been indicted along with a clerk, former mayor and a tabulator.

Secretary Brown will confer with the four nominees today and is expected to issue certificates of appointment and swear in the new members.

Craver is a former mayor and is president of the Second National bank; Farrell is chairman of the Democratic county committee, and vice-president and treasurer of the Sheet Metal Manufacturing company; Marsh is a former president of the Chamber of Commerce and an official of the Youngstown Steel Door company; Bishop is a real estate and insurance man in Poland, Ohio.

Frank Kearney, Democratic deputy clerk of the board, was reinstated by Brown, who said no evidence involving him in wrong doing had been found. Other employees of the board were left under suspension until the conclusion of the grand jury probe.

Widening of the investigation was reported as the grand jurors continued a task which Brown said would require two weeks. Brown has said that fresh evidence which "reveals the worst situation we have ever uncovered in any Ohio county," is before them.

Bobby Jones Advances With Sensational Golf

(By Associated Press)
MERION CRICKET CLUB, Ard-
more, Pa., Sept. 24.—Shooting sensational golf Bobby Jones began the match play battle for the national amateur golf championship today by crushing Ross Somerville, the Canadian titleholder, 5 and 4, in the first round.

Jones was two under par for 14-
holes and Somerville remarked:

"There was not much chance for me against that kind of golf."

The triple champion had his putter working almost miraculously as he finished the outgoing nine with three birdies, 3-3-2 to become four up.

Somerville put a game fight but he was able to win only one hole,
the 12th, when Jones three-putted.

F. G. Hoblitzel of Toronto to the sole remaining Canadian, turned up as the second round opponent for Jones. The stocky dominion star beat Ellis Knowles of New York 3
and 1, to go into the second round.

George Von Elm of Los Angeles, playing a brand of golf as spectacular as that of Jones, overhauled Chuck Hunter, 6 and 5, but such favorites and "seeded" stars as Francisco Oimmet of Boston, T. Philip Perkins of New York, the former British champion and Dr. Oscar P. Willing of Portland, Ore., the 1929 runner-up, were abruptly eliminated
from the competition.

Oimmet and Willing were the victims of upsets sprung by youthful stars, the former losing to George Kocis, 18-year-old Detroit, 3 and 2, while Willing, in a desperate fight, was beaten at the 20th hole
by W. Lawson Little of San Francisco.

After two days of taking testimony, in which controversy waxed so furious that fistie encounters were in the offing, Nye told the United Press that he felt George W. Norris, Broken Bow grocer, would not divulge to the committee
who had back his attempt to enter the primary race as aatorial candidate.

Although Senator George W. Norris, veteran Republican incumbent, has reiterated strenuously the contention that his political enemies induced the grocer to run because of the confusion two "George W.
Norris" names would cause on the ballot, the committee failed to bring forth proof of that charge.

Senator Nye intimated that he was considering the filing of perjury charges against Grocer Norris as the "only means of getting to the bottom of his candidacy." He would not state definitely that he intended to file such charges, but declared he felt the facts would be known only in Washington.

The investigation, revived again
today around efforts of the committee to prove that Victor Seymour, assistant vice chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign, provided financial aid and legal advice to the Grocer.

W. E. Shuman, attorney for the grocer, challenged Senator Nye to fistic encounter during heated controversy over the testimony of Miss Ethel Alton, Seymour's stenographer.

The convention will be held at Atlantic City, N. J., for five days starting Oct. 6. Delegates have been selected to attend the affair from each of the country's 48 states, Kelley being among the group selected from Ohio.

Speakers at the convention will include Joseph Lee of Boston, father of the playground movement in America; Charles W. Kennedy, chairman of the athletic control
board at Princeton university;
Hobby Abba, Hillel Silver of Cleveland and Dr. John H. Finley, associate editor of The New York Times.

Playground activities have been organized by Kelley at the Memorial building, both outdoors and indoors, while basketball, baseball, volleyball and other sporting leagues are maintained for adults and youths. Hundreds of children of school age make the building their headquarters during all months of the year.

Business men's classes are maintained for daily exercise during the fall and winter.

East Liverpool, was before Juvenile Judge Lodge Riddle April 28 last

The court, having been further advised about this case, now has found that Mrs. Bucey has violated the terms of her parole, and has been sent to the county jail for 30 days, and is to remain there until the costs have been paid.

New Survey Made On Radium Poison

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—An inquiry in which 300 watch factory workers were examined to determine the extent of a new disease caused by radium rays has just been completed by the U. S. public health service. The findings are being rechecked by laboratory specialists and will be published soon.

The report is regarded in medical and industrial circles as of great importance. It will reveal for the first time the number of persons suffering from "radium poisoning" rays in factories. Radium is used as a result of exposure to radium
in watch plants to paint luminous dials.

QUITE WELL, THANK YOU

Obviously, the only way to launch a discussion of national health would be to get into a conversation with that helpfully inquisitive fellow, the mythical visitor from Mars.

When he wrinkled his forehead and asked, "How are you?", that would be the time to start.

Earthmen in general, could inform the Marsman with some excusable show of pride that they had been better during the year which ended last June 30 than they had had been for a long time—since the year of the big wind, perhaps. There were no widespread epidemics of unusual proportions and plague was harder to find than usual.

At this point in the conversation the visitor from Mars would turn to the representatives of the United States and inquire how things went with them, particularly. That would be only natural since no one ever imagined that a Marsman would think of visiting any place other than the United States. Their account would be something like this:

The citizens of the United States were so healthy that the death rate dropped clear down to 11.9 for every 1,000 of population during the calendar year of 1929—and that, right in the face of a declining birth rate that has dropped and dropped since 1915 until it is just a little more than 20 births for every 1,000 people every year. That's quite a drop because back in 1919 it was 34.3.

It looks like people were living longer but that isn't so, because most of the improvement in the death rate comes from knowing how to keep babies alive. Better control of communicable diseases and general improvement in sanitary conditions have done their part, but there wouldn't be much sense in expecting to live longer in the United States than in a lot of other countries. That hardly sounds like an American's viewpoint, but the visitor from Mars should know about it, nevertheless.

Diphtheria, smallpox, yellow fever, meningitis—the Marsman would want to know about them. For instance he would be interested to know that 28,000 lives were saved in 1929 because Americans have discovered how to prevent diphtheria. During the first five years of the present century the annual diphtheria death rate was 29.6 in every 1,000; it was lowered and could be forced even lower if people realized the advantages of timely protection against the disease.

It is different with smallpox. There is little to be proud of in the fact that during 1929 approximately 42,000 cases of that disease were reported, more than were reported in any other country, except British India. Even allowing for a large population and a thorough going report, this is a bit of information that can hardly be shouted from the housetops.

Considering everything, then, it would be possible to reply to the Marsman's query in a favorable tone. "Yes, we've been quite well the last year, and how have you been?"

What Others Say

AN EVOLVING PROPHECY

Nearly fifty years ago the Constitution editorially deprecated a speech made to an audience of former confederate soldiers by Jefferson Davis, then lately the president of the ill-fated confederate states. In that speech Mr. Davis said of the cause over whose bloody career he had presided: "The cause is not lost; it is only sleeping."

In the parlous political day when that remark was made there was fear that it might be misconstrued and assailed as an incitement by Mr. Davis to the southern people to keep alive their hopes for a separate southern nation. It afterwards was made plain that the great southern leader had no such purpose hidden in his speech.

Now it is quite obvious that the statement quoted was a seer's prophecy of things to come. Today the non-separatist principle of state's rights, which was the real core of the secession adventure, is coming into life and taking front rank as a governmental issue of the near future. So that "cause" was not permanently lost by the collapse of the southern confederacy. It has been "sleeping" while ancient sovereignty rights of the states have been scrapped from them by usurpations of congress and supreme court rulings.

A present view of our highly-centralized federal government is warning the conservative people of the nation that reverse levers must be thrown in the government mechanism and old essential rights of states recovered to them—and the sooner the better for the states and federal system—Atlanta Constitution.

Choice of Swimming Pool

In the past decade swimming has made rapid strides as an exercise and as a recreation. It is becoming more and more popular every year and is now recognized as one of the best forms of sport and exercise.

In olden days we gave little thought to the hygienic side of bathing. It is a far cry from the old swimming hole to the present day popular bathing beaches where thousands go into sea and inland waters or to our finely equipped swimming pools. Years ago so such throngs went into the water together as are now seen everywhere.

With the popular bent for swimming there have come health problems. Public bathing places, swimming pools and bathing beaches have sprung up everywhere. As they grew public health officials everywhere looked upon them as sources of danger through transmission of certain diseases. Among others it has been thought typhoid fever, some social disease, diphtheria, ear and sinus troubles and other diseases have had public bathing places as their source.

Up to five or six years ago the construction, equipment and operation of these public bathing places varied much in different states and in different localities within a state. Many pools were poorly constructed and improperly equipped. There were no state control measures controlling such swimming places.

Through the co-operation of the Public Engineering Section of the American Public Health Association and the Conference of State Sanitary Engineers a better state of affairs has been reached. Studies have been made along sanitary lines and in other helpful directions.

We cannot be too careful when we bathe in dirty water—a dangerous thing. It usually contains the germs of disease. Even though it appears clear, it may be contaminated. You must think of this when your boy or girl takes to the water just anywhere.

During the summer months haven't you seen boys diving into a great city? In New York city the brown, ugly waters surrounding the Hudson or the dirty waters of the East river when your train runs along its shore. They are having what they no doubt call a beautiful time, but are in danger from no one knows what germ of disease.

During the fall and winter months swimming may now be carried on in well-managed bathing houses and swimming pools. Under the right sanitary conditions they provide splendid exercise and recreation.

It is well to remind ourselves that a thorough physical examination should precede any amount of swimming that is of a violent nature. It is very easy to overdo unless one is in good condition. Unless one has a good reaction it is well not to stay in the water too long a time.

Today the best swimming pools are made safe by water often renewed and by disinfection by chlorination. Every swimming pool should have running water, and perhaps it is not too much to hope that all will be thus equipped some day in the near future.

Any sport that combines so well as does swimming, co-ordination of mind and muscle with real recreation is worth while. Under the best of conditions and taken in moderation it is a real help to well being and good health.

Answers to Health Queries

MRS. A. G. Q.—What is the difference between a stroke of paralysis and a stroke of apoplexy? Also the difference between neuritis and neuralgia?

A—Is heart leakage curable? The heart occasionally makes a beat? Is this serious?

A—They are one and the same thing. Neuritis is due to inflammation of a nerve; neuralgia is a shooting pain through the nerve.

2—It may be depending upon the extent of the trouble. Careful examination will determine whether or not the trouble is serious and will also determine the necessary treatment. Nervousness, palpitation of indignation may be causing some of the trouble.

Twenty Years Ago

(Issue of Sept. 24, 1910.)

The rain Friday night and Saturday was a delight to the farmers, but the cause of much trouble to the Telephone companies. The lightning was worse than at any time this summer.

The home of William Bodendorfer of Ohio avenue, was struck by lightning Saturday morning. Slight damage was done to the house. The family experienced no ill effect from the shock.

Charles Bonnell, city secretary of the Socialist congressional committee, has mailed a challenge to Hon. James Kennedy of Youngstown, and J. J. Whitacre, of Canton, to meet Thomas Williams, of Youngstown Socialist candidate for congress in open debate.

Fifty Years Ago Today—Dr. Heine, with two companions, traveled in a balloon from Providence, R. I., to Newton, N. H., 90 miles in five hours. After landing the bag escaped and was blown to Kittery, Me.

Comly Townsend of Ellsworth avenue, who is widely known in the city, died Friday night. He served as assistant postmaster at one time. Prohibitionists of the 18th congressional district have organized for the coming campaign. These officers have been selected: Chairman, J. E. Ream, Salem; secretary, J. A. H. Stratton, Salem; treasurer, Jas. W. Brewer, Beloit.

Lesbon—The annual color rush between the freshmen and sophomore classes of the high school has been banned by school officials.

According to figures submitted by Supt. J. S. Johnson, there were 1,476 pupils enrolled in the public schools of Salem at the end of the first week of the 1910-11 term.

READ THE WANT COLUMN

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—Neighborhood saloons with the swing doors, mirrors in curlicued frames, intimate back rooms and other old time trappings are as plentiful along the lower East Side as luxurious whippers. On such streets as Forsythe, Allen, Mulberry and Eldridge there is one or more to the block.

Their easy camaraderie is playing havoc with push-the-button-and-a-for-Louis basement places uptown. Downtown there is no peep hole scrutiny. Customers step in and right up to the bar where old time barkeepers with gates-ajar collars and shirt stud "sparklers" inquire: Name the poison, pents?

They have the informality of the Paris bistro. Mustaches dip into foaming mugs, ladies rest toolies on brass rails and there is the cluck-cluck of the dice box. Some have four bartenders. At the end of the bar, too, is the familiar twirling caster with clove, orange peel, cinnamon bark and coffee.

The rattle of cocktail shakers and the plink of touching glasses can be heard in the street. Camouflage is utterly abandoned. In some places it is possible to see under the door the half-legged line-up at the bar. South of Canal street, the wide open bar has the flourish of 20 years ago.

The saloons operate with a "dump supply." Liquors are in pitchers so—at the lookout's warning buzz—B may be quickly poured into waiting receptacles next door. The supply is thus not lost in a raid and padlocking evidence is frustrated.

There are employees, derided gentlemen reminding of former bar flies, who keep supplies at proper quantity. They act as runners and when a special supply runs low go several blocks away for a single bottle of the required stuff. Some have caches as far away as an innocent Bronx flat.

The only difference from before prohibition saloon is that tables for serving food are scattered about the barroom. Meals are ridiculously low priced but those who come only for food are soon spotted. Next time they are gruffly informed all tables are reserved.

While New York has 30,000 speakeasies to supplant 16,000 licensed saloons, the strain on the speak-easy patron begins to tell. There is no suggestion of merriment. People eat and drink in silence, sitting on the edge of chairs.

They were mourning the removal of a beloved member of the Play-ers to far away Brooklyn. "Into each life some Brooklyn must fall," sighed Oliver Herford, last of the Victorian jesters.

There was a lugubrious lilt, too, yesterday to a flossy Park avenue cafe menu. In all the stately Frenched-up items they simply had to bust right out with it. They were serving: "Black bean soup!"

At another table was one of those omniscient salad dressing experts with not only the widest aeronaut shoulders on record but his ears suggested he might take off any moment. He expanded magnificently on his creations. But off salad dressings he was another he-Gerrude Stein.

A gentleman giving many dinners, invites only five—just enough to fill his Rolls. He arrives at the appointed cafe in a dilapidated taxi. This doubtless gives him a feeling of martyrdom.

Aand another wealthy eccentric has a peanut roaster in his bachelor pent house. He does not care for peanuts, but loves the fragrant roasting smell. As who doesn't!

I am eccentric with an ignoble lech to pour ice water from huge pitchers on people in evening dress. A grand spot would be a parapet of a pent house on the Metropolitan opera house. There goes Mrs. Vanderget! One, two, three—swish! zowie! skush! Brr-r-r-r! Home James!

The Stars Say

For Thursday, September 25

Most propitious planetary intervention may be looked for on this day, with the major benefic bearing strong rule for gratification and growth, with even the customary adverse forces holding friendly attitudes. It is time for bold adventure and initiative as well as for practical industry, with the prospect of advancing all interests and increasing the fortunes. Purely personal affiliations will also bring much happiness and should flourish, being particularly active.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of much progress and happiness, with all departments of human endeavor under friendly stars and bringing material gratification as well as personal happiness. It is a time pushing to the goal of heart's desire, with little danger of hazard or unhappiness.

A child born on this day should be resourceful, energetic, steady, industrious and ambitious, and should succeed in business and be very happy and gratified in its private life. It should shine in society and reach stable position generally.

Evangelist Here

Rev. C. Warren Jones

Rev. C. Warren Jones, superintendent of the Pittsburgh district of the Nazarene church, is expected in Salem tonight to attend the evangelistic service at this church.

This church is holding special meetings this week, with the pastor, Rev. P. F. Cooley speaking on interesting revival themes.

Rev. Cooley states "that he believes the entire Bible to be the word of God. He is preaching it as such."

The music is under the leadership of Evangelist Ernest B. Marsh, of Cuyahoga Falls, with Mrs. G. C. Morgan, pianist. Mr. Marsh has had much experience in this line of work and knows how to make the song service interesting.

There will be services each night, except Saturday. The song period consists of congregational singing and special numbers. It is followed by an inspirational message.

PHILADELPHIA — Carefully counted and pinned together by himself, seven new one-dollar bills are in a pigeon hole in a desk of Andrew W. Mellon, in Washington. They are some of Uncle Sam's money all of which is in charge of Mr. Mellon, and they are for carfare to Philadelphia. They were handed to him by a marshal with a subpoena to testify in a prohibition case in Philadelphia. But later it developed that the department of justice had the information desired and the $7 must be returned.

FASCIST LEADER FACING TREASON

Hailed Into Court With Subpoena; Others Are On Trial

(By Associated Press)

LEIPZIG, Germany, Sept. 24—Accused of treason, Adolph Hitler, leader of the German Fascist party, was under subpoena today to testify in the trial of three young Reichswehr lieutenants regarding the beliefs and policies of his party.

It was revealed in court, at the time the subpoena was sought, by Dr. Frank, attorney for the defense of the three men, who are charged with high treason, that Hitler is being charged with high treason also.

Details of charges against Hitler, who is an Austrian although dictator in the second strongest party in the newly elected Reichstag, were not disclosed, but the presiding judge would not hear of his subpoena until informed by the state's attorney, as the defense counsel contended, that such a serious charge was being lodged against him.

It was expected that he would appear tomorrow, the date set in the subpoena. Defense counsel indicated that he would be asked to state whether Fascist policy had not changed since 1923, year of the Munich "beer cellar" Putsch. This may involve acknowledgement or denial that he would have his party overthrow the constitution by unconstitutional means.

The three lieutenants, Richard Scheringer, Hans Ludien, and Hans Friedrich Wendt used yesterday's appearances in court as opportunity to expound their theories of irresponsibility of the past German governments.

Job Shortage Hits Students In College

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Sept. 24—Unemployment is more than a theoretical economic problem for hundreds of students at the University of Michigan.

A survey today showed there are

The combination of circumstances may force scores of students, in dire need of financial aid, to withdraw from school.

2½ Cents in the Dollar
Not Wall Street's idea of money making

Why has A & P more customers than any other grocer on earth? . . . "It sells for cash at the lowest price possible," answers The Business Week, a magazine that studies business methods.

And why are A & P's prices so low? . . . "It buys direct from original producers, and makes every known short cut in distribution," says The Business Week.

Then, not satisfied with other people's say-so, Business Week digs into the official records of A & P's sales and profits, and by a simple sum in arithmetic gets the rest of the story—namely, that A & P keeps only 2½ cents of every dollar taken over its counter.

"Two-and-a-half cents profit is not Wall Street's idea of something to capitalize," says Business Week, explaining Wall Street's complete separation from so large a business enterprise as A & P. But it is A & P's idea of fair treatment of the housewife.

Wrecked Kanakas Tell Of Hardships

(By Associated Press)
BRISBANE, Australia, Sept. 24.—For more than a month 35 Kanakas men, women and children, lived on Bird Island, an inhospitable outcrop of rock in the Banda sea. Their sole food was raw fish and their only drink was seabirds' blood.

The party had been crossing the Banda sea when their big war canoe was wrecked on the island, upon which there is not a blade of grass and no living creatures except myriads of sea insects.

The Kanakas, almost deranged by their terrible privations, were rescued by the China-Australian liner Taiping which, fortunately for them, was blown out of her usual course and so passed near the island.

Radio Program Aids Aviator In Landing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Naval aviators have found a new use for radio broadcasting.

Lt. Comdr. D. B. Duncan reported to the navy today that while on a flight from Hartford, Conn., to Bound Brook, N. J., visibility became so poor he could not see the ground. He said he tuned in his radio compass sent on the broadcast from WJZ at Bound Brook and was led directly to his destination.

The navy aerobatics bureau has decided to conduct a study of "blind flying" navigation through use of using commercial broadcasting stations.

Large Bequest Will Aid Church In Ohio

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Sept. 24.—A bequest of $25,000 for the First Presbyterian church of New Philadelphia, O., is included in the will of the late Charles C. Coventry, president and treasurer of the Cleveland Tool and Supply company.

Coventry left an estate of about $250,000, according to his will filed in probate court yesterday. A trust fund will be established for five years for Mrs. Harriet C. White, Cleveland, a sister, and Frank L. Coventry, Hibbing, Minn., a brother, after which the estate is to be liquidated. Bequests paid and the remainder divided between the brother and sister. Besides that for the New Philadelphia church, the bequest was $3,600 for the Society for the Promotion of the Interests of the Blind of Cleveland and $5,000 for Rainbow hospital, Cleveland.

School Suspended

TIFFIN, Sept. 24.—Burglars stole the where-with-alls of knowledge yesterday and this gave district school No. 2 pupils a few hours of surcease. Study was resumed after missing pencils, paper, pens, chalk and crayons had been replaced.

Teacher Recovering From Auto Injuries

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 24.—Miss Maria Stiglitz, 26, a school teacher, who lay unconscious at a hospital for 47 days from injuries suffered in an automobile accident, was recovering at her home here today.

Her injuries included a fractured skull, a dislocated vertebra in the neck—and ivy poisoning. She was thrown in a growth of poison ivy when her car got out of control and left the road. For a month and a half she lay in a coma at the Kentucky Baptist hospital here, kept alive by receiving nourishment through tubes.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 24.—Officials of the Matthews Dairies company here yesterday swore to a warrant charging Bendix S. Rahbeck, 37, with embezzlement of 119,748 eggs over a period of about a year and a half. Rahbeck, fireman of the company, was placed in jail.

Camels are made, and always have been made, for discriminating smokers—the people whose keen judgment unerringly selects the best. But that doesn't mean you have to be an expert to enjoy Camels! The delicate, mellow fragrance of those choice sun-ripened tobaccos is something that anybody can appreciate. Camels are naturally smooth and mild—never parched nor insipid.

Why is there such a swing to Camels? Because more and more smokers are learning the difference between true mildness and mere flatness. Give yourself the luxury of a cigarette that's always pleasant smoking.

District Big Ten League Draws Interest Of Salem Grid Fans

THE DAY In Sports

COMPARING GRID DOPE

In the last 23 games Salem High has been victorious in 20, a glance into scores for past few years shows. This includes the defeat at Canton Saturday and only the 1928 and 1929 seasons. In 1927 the Red and Black won only three out of nine games, losing five and tying one while in 1926 the team won 19 straight games without sustaining defeat, giving Salem a record of 33 victories in 41 games, not a bad record at all.

In 10 years, starting with 1920, Salem won 63 games, lost 26 and tied four while in the decade previous, 1910-19, inclusive, Red and Black teams suffered defeat 11 times more than they won decisions, losing 47, winning 35 and tying three. From 1901 to 1929 Salem has a record of 35 wins, 24 setbacks and four draws.

So in 29 seasons the Red and Black's record is considerably better than many schools of similar size. It has won 134 victories, lost 97 games and was tied 11 times.

It is apparent that teams here started winning more games than ever before after the season of 1921. The best records of any team from 1910 to 1919 were those of 1912 when six games were won and three lost and in 1910 when team registered five wins and two defeats. Only two other seasons found Salem with more victories than setbacks, they being 1914 and 1915.

In 1901, as scores furnished yesterday show, the team was not defeated and also held opponents scoreless in three games. In 1906 Salem had a successful season winning six out of seven games.

So compare the records of some years ago with those of the past decade. There is every change in the world, especially in the past five years.

Salem High Defends Honors Won Last Year In Undefeated Season

Lack of competition among Columbiana county high schools for the county grid championship has thrown all interest in titular contests involving Coach Floyd Stone's Red and Black grid machine from the county into the Northeastern Ohio Big Ten Interscholastic association of which the Stonemen were champions in the 1929 season.

Despite Salem's 25-9 setback at Canton last week the gridders from this city are accredited with an excellent chance for the annexation of the district championship for the second consecutive season. Involved in the association's titular contest, together with Salem, are Alliance, Dover, Massillon, New Philadelphia, Niles, Warren, Wooster, Ravenna and Barberton.

According to association by-laws each member school must meet at least three other schools which are included in the district organization in order to be considered a contender for the grid championship. Last year Salem won the title by defeating Alliance, Warren and New Philadelphia.

Undefeated In '29 Race

Warren was trimmed by a 7-0 game in the inaugural night contest of the season while New Philly dropped a 25-12 decision to the Stonemen in a game played at the Tuscarawas school's home field. Alliance lost by a 7-0 score in the annual Turkey Day fracas in November.

Salem again meets this trio in its present campaign and major competition for the title is expected from Alliance and Warren. The latter school, with an entirely new coaching staff, is figured as having one of the strongest teams in this section of Ohio and clashes with Salem High in another night game at Reilly stadium on Friday, October 10.

New Philly also plays here at night on October 17 while Alliance is played Thanksgiving day morning at Alliance for the first time in history of relationship between the two schools.

A meeting of the association was held in Massillon Monday night, W. J. Springer, Stone, Har-

HEADLINES From the Sidelines

By DAVIS J. WALSH

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—So far as a certain Mr. Jones is concerned, the national amateur golf championship virtually will be decided at Merion Cricket club today.

If he gets by those two 18-hole matches that are on the program for the eight hours about to ensue, then he will be pointing downhill with all four wheels goosed with grease and a fresh wind blowing against his broad back.

Moreover, a number of men, young and old, who have been waiting to cash those so-called 50 to 1 wagers reported to have been made on his winning the four major golf championships of the year, will be dancing in the streets and thumping their grannies on the back, if any.

This Mr. Jones must win two of those bobtailed matches today to get into the 36 hole, catch-as-catch can, hit where you please out where he is in a class by himself and where he had sustained but one defeat in the last six years. Once he coasts into the double round business, which begins on Thursday, there won't be any more to it, or to say the least, not much.

Mr. Jones never had a fancy for this eighteen hole business. It isn't the sort of thing the better golfers relish. Too many accidents can happen in that short time. Witness the pain that came into his life last year when young Johnny Goodman of Omaha thrust his sandy skull over the shoulders of his mates and laid Mr. Jones low in the very first round of play.

The Atlantan isn't meeting any pushover in his first round today. Mr. C. Ross Somerville of Canada never would be picked as an opponent for Primo Carnera if he were a box fighting man. He has been the Canadian amateur champion at least three times and he has beaten some pretty fancy golfers, American and otherwise, in winning these championships. Also, he has had plenty of experience over the eighteen hole course, since they fancy that sort of thing in Canada.

If he wins over Somerville, which isn't the surest thing in the world he will have to meet either another Canadian, F. E. Hoblitzell, or the veteran Ellis Knowles, both likewise skilled at the eighteen hole game.

Your correspondent isn't wholly familiar with the virtues of Mr. Hoblitzell, but he does know that Mr. Knowles, a semi-finalist in this amateur championship 26 years ago, has had much eighteen hole experience around New York and is a Harold Akin, 22-year-old halfback on the 1930 grid squad of Colorado College, was fatally injured in the first serious accident of the new football season. In falling he struck the back of his head and lost consciousness. He died without regaining consciousness.

Midget Grid Team Planned In Salem

Organization of a midget football team to represent Salem against such noted teams as the Kent Beacats and other juvenile eleven in Ohio is planned here this year.

Youngsters wishing to try out for the team are requested to see Russell Stallsmith at the Salem Storage Battery company or at his home this week concerning practices which will be held starting next week.

The team is planned to average about 118 lbs.

Cardinals Eliminate Last Of Easterners From Pennant Chase

Contest Now Up To Cubs And St. Louis With Latter Holding Inside Position; American League Idle And Athletics Watch Cards

(By Associated Press)

The National league has eliminated the last surviving eastern contender for the title, leaving the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs to battle it out for the championship.

Brooklyn dropped out of the race yesterday as they took an 8 to 2 beating from New York while the league leading Cardinals again triumphed over the last place Phillies by a 19 to 16 count.

Just as the Athletics surpassed their American league rivals, the Cardinals now appear to be the dominating team of the elder circuit. Yesterday's victory in the slugfest which produced 26 hits for the winners and 16 for the defeated victories in 36 games.

The Giants gained a virtual tie with Brooklyn for third place and today the four clubs stand as follows:

MOVIES

Preview showings of the popular all-talking mystery attraction, "Raffles" in which Ronald Colman is starred, were given Salem theaters at the Grand theater Monday and Tuesday nights and will continue the remainder of the week. The picture is scheduled to appear at the Grand as part of Manager C. Virgil Rakestraw's observance of "Better Talkie" week soon.

"Hold Everything," the great comedy of the boxing ring is another of next week's attractions in which Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown, the screen's leading comedy players are starred. "The Divorcee," featuring the popular Norma Shearer, is the third of the week's leading attractions.

Important among the announcements made by Rakestraw was that concerning the coming of the outstanding picture of the year, "Common Clay" which will be here for three days starting Monday, October 6. "All Quiet on the Western Front" will also be shown here in the near future.

AT THE GRAND One Romantic Night

As the astronomer who preferred to star-gaze on the night he won an avowal of love, Conrad Nagel has created one of the most interesting roles of his career in "One Romantic Night" the United Artists all-dialogue picture starring Lillian Gish at the Grand theater.

In this film version of the Ferenc Molnar play "The Swan" Nagel portrays the role of Dr. Haller, the astronomer-tutor who wins and loses the hand of an aristocratic young woman when love temporarily surrenders to his passion for the stars. Nagel, who is one point of a romantic triangle which includes Miss Gish and Red La Rocque characterizes an earnest young man who finds himself a mere pawn in the game of love.

"One Romantic Night" which, incidentally, introduces Miss Gish in her first talking picture, is a romantic comedy-drama that preserves all the swift play of wit and romantic beauty that established the Molnar play as one of the greatest contributions in the field of entertainment.

Ordered to spare no labor or expense in making this one of the outstanding pictures of the year, Stein caused the most elaborate and costly sets of modern production to be erected at the United Artists studios. Many renowned art directors and interior decorators were engaged to lend their art in the recreation and copying of authentic settings.

The rich garden scenes, against which much of the romantic action of the story is set, were taken at the celebrated Busch Gardens in Pasadena, California. This beauty spot was the locale of an intensive shooting schedule lasting several days.

Included in the supporting cast with La Rocque and Nagel are Marie Dressler, O. P. Heggie, Albert Conti, Edgar Norton, Billie Bennett, Phillippe de Lacy and Byron Sage.

AT THE STATE "Sweethearts and Wives"

All the action of "Sweethearts and Wives," the Billie Dove starring vehicle at the State theater, takes place in one night and early morning.

The story concerns a hunt for a stolen diamond necklace. A French maid, played by Billie Dove, an English divorcee detective, Clive Brook, and an English Lord, Crawford Kent are all interested in regaining the jewels, but through far different motives.

A lonely French inn in the South of France has been chosen for the rendezvous and return of the diamonds. All these interested are there. Into this house of mystery stumble a pair of aristocrats, Tony Peel, (Sidney Blackmer), and Angela Worthington (Lelia Hyams). They have run out of gas and can go no further.

From these added elements the mystery grows and grows. There is a murder, a robbery, an automobile accident, and of course a love affair. Everything turns out all right in the end, as things do in the movies.

This picture is directed by Clarence Badger and includes such actors as Billie Dove, the star, Sidney Blackmer, Lelia Hyams, Clive Brook, John Loder, Crawford Kent, and Fletcher Norton.

Clara Bow Named By Resort For Halting Debt Payments

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—Having issued a statement denying anyone had a "rightful claim" against her, Clara Bow, film actress, remained silent while attorneys for a Lake Tahoe resort proprietor today sought to collect alleged gambling debts totaling $13,990 which they said were incurred by a girl with flaming red hair who had been introduced as the "It" girl of the screen.

Miss Bow issued the statement after attorneys for James McKay, operator of a gambling resort on the Nevada shore of the fashionable Lake Tahoe, announced they had appealed to B. P. Schulberg, production manager of the studio employing the actress.

The checks were said to have been given in amounts of $6,000, $7,300, and two for $300 each, drawn on a Hollywood bank.

The actress, after hearing of McKay's statement gave out the following statement yesterday.

"If anyone in the world feels he has a rightful claim against me for any sum of money whatsoever, which I deny, I will gladly accept service of any legal documents. I always pay every honest debt promptly."

POLICE PUZZLE OVER EXPLOSION

Driver Killed When Blast
Wrecks Auto While
On Highway

(By Associated Press)

AKRON, Sept. 24.—The mysterious explosion of an automobile in which Clarence R. Barnes, 43, Akron salesman, was killed, puzzled police today.

Barnes was driving toward home last night in a car which he had borrowed from a roomer at his home when the machine was demolished by an explosion. The salesman was hurled 40 feet into a field and died a short time later at city hospital while awaiting amputation of his left leg.

Detectives hazarded a theory that the explosion originated in the gasoline tank under the seat, but could not determine the cause. They said the fact that Barnes had driven about 10 miles before the blast precluded the possibility that a time bomb or dynamite had been planted in the car.

Barnes, before losing consciousness, was unable to explain the explosion. Police said they were unable to find that he had any enemies.

She was attempting to have a fifth cashed when a clerk identified her.

Taken to police headquarters the woman readily admitted that she had forged 75 checks which had been turned over to police by various stores and business houses in the city. She used several aliases.

ENDS DIGESTIVE ILLS QUICK AND GAINS 13 POUNDS

Food does not nourish when it is not properly digested. That's why people who suffer from gas on stomach and bowels, belching, nausea, indigestion, dizziness, etc., due to indigestion, often find themselves underweight, weak, with little energy and vitality.

All this is quickly changed when you start using the simple discovery known as Pape's Diapepsin. When people experience for themselves the amazing results of using these tasty tablets, they invariably feel compelled to tell others.

Mrs. Relda J. Glenn, 7031 Zoeter Ave., Cleveland, Ohio, says: "I suffered for over two years with pain in my stomach, gas and headaches, trying all the time to get relief by using medicines and treatments."

"Then I learned about Diapepsin and began using it. It has been a wonderful help to me. I eat pastries now without bad after-effects. How they used to make me suffer!"

"Friends that I have told about Diapepsin have been helped in the same way. I have gained thirteen pounds since starting on it."

All druggists sell it; or if you wish to try it before buying, write "Pape's Diapepsin," Wheeling, W. Va., for a trial box, FREE.
